EPA Board regional consultation trip to Port Lincoln

Port Lincoln Mayor Peter Davis with Dr Paul Vogel.

Each year the Board undertakes a number of regional consultation visits as part of a strategic commitment to community engagement.

The recent Port Lincoln trip was hailed a success with 40 plus people turning up for the public forum, ranging from elected council members to business leaders and the general public.

The draft EPA Landfill Guidelines dominated the two-hour discussion.

A full report on the issues discussed and an action plan will be released in the near future.

Comms Officer Briony Spragg organised the extensive media coverage.

Being interviewed by GTS/BKN television.
