

7 November 2005

EPA matters

EPA Air Quality Education Coordinator, Jessica Gilding.

Channel Nine's Weather
Presenter, Keith Martyn.

AirWatch

For the last two years, 20 primary schools have contributed information to the AirWatch National Nine News weather segment on a Wednesday evening. Rostered schools have collected data from their local area on temperature, rainfall, wind direction, wind speed and visual air quality for the segment.

On Thursday 1 December, participating schools were invited to the studios of Channel Nine in North Adelaide to receive a special thank you certificate and to meet Channel Nine's weather presenter.

media and public affairs

