Open data

Since 2017, all published NPI data across Australia has been published as open data on the Commonwealth website.

Open data enables information from various years and facilities to be easily compared.

Use of NPI data

Have you ever wondered what happens to your NPI data and how it is used?

NPI data can be searched on the website by map or form. Data is used by the community, for benchmarking, research, air modelling and evidence based policy.

The South Australian EPA uses NPI data to calculate the Resource Efficiency Fee \(REF\) for load-based licensing.

Tips for submitting your report on time

Start your report early and ensure that NPI reporting is part of your internal procedures. This may mean including NPI reporting as part of a job description and writing an internal operating procedure on how to write an NPI report.

All NPI correspondence (including reminder emails) are directed to the technical contact, so remember to let the NPI team know if your technical contact has left your company or changed roles.

The EPA recommends using the Online Reporting System (ORS) to ensure that your report is received on time.

If you choose to submit a paper report, please allow enough time to reach the EPA office by the due date.
