TO THE RESIDENT

Dear Resident

Re: Proposed Groundwater Prohibition Area for Glenelg East and surrounding areas

As you may be aware, since 2014 the Environment Protection Authority (EPA) has managed an assessment program to monitor groundwater and soil vapour coming from the former Glenelg Dry Cleaners at 37–41 Cliff Street.

It has also been regulating the assessment of groundwater contamination originating from various other sites in the area including a former blacksmiths site since 1996, the dry cleaner since 2002 and a service station since 2008. Groundwater will remain contaminated in the area for the foreseeable future.

Depending on where you live or work, you may have already been advised to not use your groundwater (bore water) for any purpose. The EPA is now proposing to establish a Groundwater Prohibition Area in areas of Glenelg, Glenelg East and Glenelg South (please see the map in the enclosed fact sheet). The purpose of this initiative is to protect both current and future landholders from accessing the contaminated groundwater via a bore.

To help you understand more about the issue we have enclosed a fact sheet outlining what this means to residents and an invitation to attend a community information session. This session is to provide the local community with an opportunity to speak with staff from the EPA and ask questions in a friendly, relaxed environment.

For further information please contact the community engagement team on (08) 8124 4216 or email engage.epa@sa.gov.au or please visit www.engage.epa.sa.gov.au.

Yours sincerely

Andrew Pruszinski
