Part 5—Interpretation

BAL means business activities licence.

Compliance Verified means—

- in the case where an accredited tester has indicated a 'Yes', compliance with the specified test has been verified;
- in the case where an accredited tester has indicated a 'No', the apparatus is not compliant with the specified test, or a verification of compliance is not possible;
- in the case where an accredited tester has indicated a 'N/A', the test does not apply to the apparatus.

Sec means section of the specified test protocol

S/N means serial number
